

Shootist

Turn Sequence: Roll Draw die, highest roller goes first. A shootist may opt to roll a lesser die.

Actions: Move 2 hexes; Shoot; Reload; Move 1 hex & Shoot; Move 1 hex & Reload; Move 1 hex & Pick-up; Move 1 hex & Brawl.

Modifiers:

- All modifiers change die type, never actual die throw.
- No die can ever be less than D4. No die can ever be more than D12. Exception: if the shooting die is less than D4, no shooting is possible.

Movement:

- Move & shoot: shootist can shoot at any point during movement. He can be shot at by any shootist who could see him at the time he took his shot.
- Turning or popping out of cover counts as moving.
- Repositioning within the same hex counts as moving.

Shooting: Shooter rolls shoot die, target rolls dodge die. If shoot > dodge, then target is hit. A shootist in cover can shoot without penalty. If he shoots, he can be shot at until the next draw phase.

Shoot die: modifiers change die type!!!	Dodge die: modifiers change die type!!!
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • -1 when moving • -1 when fanning: up to 3 shots may be fired at -1. Number of shots must be declared before the shootist takes his 1st shot. All shots may be fired at different targets, but second and third target are at -2. Movement is not possible. 2nd and 3rd shots are after the all other shootists have taken their turn, again in Draw order. Only pistols may be fanned, and not if an arm is wounded. A shootist shooting with two pistols may not fan. • -1 for each shot when using two pistols; fanning is not possible. • -1 if target is in soft or partial cover. • -1 if changing weapons. This applies only when shooting in 2 consecutive turns. It does not apply to switching between 1 and 2 pistols, to knives, brawling etc... • -1 for crossfire: If the shot misses, AND there is another potential target (even friendly, a horse, whatever) in the same hex as the straight shooting line, but more than 2 hexes away from the shooter, then roll shoot vs dodge against this 2nd target. The shooting die is at -1, but can never be less than D4 (exception to the normal shooting rules). If there is more than one possible target, the one with lowest dodge die roll is shot at • wound modifiers 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • +1 if shootist has moved already this turn • -1 if shot from behind • wound modifiers

Wounds: Roll D10 for location (D8 if legs are hidden e.g. window).

Roll	Location	Effect
1	Head	Instant death (or knock-out if brawling).
2-6	Chest	-1 to dodge. Roll D6. If D6 < total number of wounds received, then the shootist is dead.
7	Spare Arm	-1 to brawl. Cannot Fan. Reload at 1/2 rate. Cannot use this arm to shoot. If both arms are hit, shootist is unable to shoot or brawl.
8	Shoot Arm	-1 to draw, shoot and brawl. Cannot Fan. If both arms are hit, shootist is unable to shoot or brawl.
9-10	Leg	-1 to brawl. Movement is limited to one hex. If both legs are hit, shootist can only change orientation.

Reload: Reload an empty gun. If moving, D6 bullets are lost. Maximum reload = 'reload value' of weapon.

Pick-up: 6 bullets can be picked up from the belt of dead shootists, or 3 from their gun. A single weapon can be picked up from a dead shootist in one turn.

Hand-to-hand:

- Roll brawl vs brawl. Highest wins, loser gets a wound. Tie = no wounds.
- Roll hit location as normal. Head = knockout.
- Knife, Tomahawk and Spear give +1.
- A shootist who is attacked in hand to hand may not shoot anymore that turn, but he may fight hand to hand, and may move upto 1 hex.
- A shootist involved in a brawl, which draws first, can break-off from brawl without penalty.

Buildings, doors and windows:

- Entering or leaving a building through a door costs 1 hex of movement; entering or leaving a building through a window costs 2. Shootist can take cover on the 'inner' side.
- Moving 'through' a building from door/window to door/window takes a full move, if the shootist already is at the 'inner' side of the door or window.
- Hollywood rules: If a shootist is behind window or at the edge of roof when hit, roll dodge again. If $dodge < original\ shoot\ roll$, shootist falls through window or from the roof. If he falls more than one floor, he gets an additional wound.
- Buildings can be set on fire. Building has $dodge\ of\ D4$. If hit, then roll D4 for number of turns before building collapses.

Horses:

- Maximum movement on horse = 6 hexes.
- Mounting or dismounting takes a full move. Shootist may not shoot while mounting or dismounting.
- Mounted shootist shoots without penalty when stationary; -1 if horse moves upto 2 hexes; no shooting if horse moves more than 2 hexes.
- If mounted shootist or horse is wounded, roll Ride die. If $roll \leq number\ of\ wounds\ of\ shootist\ and\ horse$, he falls off the horse.
- A dismounted horse will stay where it is, unless shot at. A horse being shot at, in a different hex as its driver, runs D4 hexes away from shooter.
- Horses can be shot at. D4 to dodge; 6 wounds. A wounded horse moves at half speed.
